

► SHORT INFORMATION ◀

Name: Mirjana Lenhardt

Positions in International Association for Danube Research (IAD):

Head of the Expert Group Fishery/Fish Biology.

Affiliation: Institute for Biological Research and Institute for Multidisciplinary Research University of Belgrade (<http://www.ibiss.bg.ac.rs>; <http://www.imsi.rs>), Department of Hydroecology and Water Protection/Department of Natural resources and Environmental Sciences; Serbia.

Main research field: ichthyology.

Interests: fish ecology, ecotoxicology, heavy metals in the environment and their accumulation, fish hematology, biochemistry and histology, conservation and management of sturgeons, fish as bioindicators of the state of open waters, non-native and invasive fish species, etc.

Additional information:

Participation in international projects and work in interdisciplinary and international research groups in Norway, Hungary, Croatia, Bosnia and Hercegovina, Romania, Slovakia, Czech Republic, Austria, and Bulgaria.

Ad hoc reviewer for the journals: Science of the Total Environment, Chemosphere, Polar Research, Food Control, Turksih Journal of Zoology, Aquaculture International, Slovenian Veterinary Research, Saudi Journal of Biological Sciences, Folia Zoologica, Biologia, etc.

Participation in National Capacity self assessment for environmental protection management, Thematic assessment of the needs for capacity building aimed to meet the requirements of the Convention on Biological Diversity; Participation in preparing Serbian First National Communication under the UN Framework Convention on Climate Change – part relating to biodiversity etc.

Over 60 papers in International Citation Index journals and 7 chapters in books. Participation in more than 20 projects and leader of more than 10 international and national projects. In commission of 2 MSc and 11 PhD theses.

Contact: lenhardt@ibiss.bg.ac.rs, lenhardt@imsi.rs, +381 63 7495772, Institute for Biological Research “Siniša Stanković” University of Belgrade, Bulevar Despota Stefana 142, 11000 Belgrade, Serbia.